CBA Book Club Introduction and Book Reviews by Deborah Greitzer

CBA's book group started meeting a few years ago. At first we read books that were suggested by people who attended, but then we started alphabetically going through the list of 100 Greatest Works of Modern Jewish Literature that was published in the Fall 2001 issue of the Yiddish Book Center's publication, Pakn Treger.

In future issues, we will mention a few other books that were especially meaningful to us. Anyone is welcome to join us for our Zoom discussion of "Victoria," a novel about Jews in Baghdad by the Israeli author Sami Michael, who was born in Baghdad.

Contact Shelly shellykerker@hotmail.com or Deborah dgreitzer@hotmail.com to get the Zoom invitation.

Passover Movie and TV Clips: All in Good Fun by Marty Kerker, CBA Vintage Jewish Movie Group

There are a number of Passover related movies and film clips out there. Here are links to some of my personal favorites :

Full Length Comedy

When Do We Eat, -- coarse, crude, tasteless are a few adjectives that come to mind – another is hilarious The film has become a bit of a cult classic and is probably considered the mother of all Passover themed comedies. Available for rent online –here’s the trailer: When Do We Eat?

Full Length Drama in Under Two Minutes

The Ten Commandments. too long at 3 and a half hours? For those with a short attention span, here’s an abridged version that clocks in at under two minutes:

TV/Sketch Comedy

Curb Your Enthusiasm's, The Seder is good, but this is better-- check out Jerry Seinfeld as Elijah on SNL.

(note: you do not need a Dropbox account or app to play the video)

Full Length Animated

Sure there's The Prince of Egypt and The Animated Haggadah for kids. But there's one for "adults" too – Seder-Masochim by animator Nina Paley. Probably best viewed after the 4th cup of wine or other mind altering vehicle of choice? Great soundtrack....
