

CBA Corona Chronicle Issue #8

Special HUMOR Issue

For our 8th issue, we wanted to bring a smile to your face during these pandemic times. We have included contributions from our readers, interspersed with some Jewish flavored YouTube videos. As you would when reading Torah, please scroll for content.

After this year's virtual seders, we can all relate!!

There are four types of people who use ZOOM

The Wise

The Wicked

The Simple

The One Who Does Not Know How to Mute

The Wise One Says:

I'll handle the admin features, the chat rooms, and email a transcript from the cloud after the meeting.

The Wicked One Says: You asked me to schedule this meeting, so I booked it for 6 hours, After all, the Haggadah says "He who prolongs the telling of the story will be blessed."

The Simple One Says: Are you there? I can see you, but I can't hear you!

The One Who Does Not Know How to Mute Says: Honey, I don't know where your keys are. Right now I'm stuck on a Zoom meeting with a bunch of idiots.

To The Wise One offer all of the optional features of Zoom

To the Wicked One say: If you had been in charge, we would still be in Egypt.

To the Simple One say: Maybe you should try the call-in number.

To the One Who Does Not Know How to Mute say: Why should tonight be different from any other night?

submitted by Ellen Franke

Mel and Groucho: the OBVIOUS choices for the Mount Rushmore of Jewish Humor (the other two are up for debate)

The 15 Commandments

Click HERE

The Password is "Swordfish"

Click HERE

Our Coronavirus Strategy (G-d Help Us!)

The American Medical Association has weighed in on Trump's Corona strategy: The Allergists were in favor of scratching it, but the Dermatologists advised not to make any rash moves. The Gastroenterologists had sort of a gut feeling about it, but the Neurologists thought the Administration had a lot of nerve. Meanwhile, Obstetricians felt certain everyone was laboring under a misconception, while the Ophthalmologists considered the idea short-sighted. Pathologists yelled, "Over my dead body!" while the Pediatricians said, "Oh, grow up!" The Psychiatrists thought the whole idea was madness, while the Radiologists could see right through it. Surgeons decided to wash their hands of the whole thing and the Internists claimed it would indeed be a bitter pill to swallow. The Plastic Surgeons opined that this proposal would "put a whole new face on the matter." The Podiatrists thought it was a step forward, but the Urologists were pissed off at the whole idea. Anesthesiologists thought the whole idea was a gas, and those lofty Cardiologists didn't have the heart to say no. In the end, the Proctologists won out, leaving the entire decision up to the assholes in Washington

Above article submitted by Marilyn Hochfield.

The Mohel

"Cutting edge" humor
from Seinfeld

Click HERE

Subtle and Slightly Cerebral

What's green, and hangs on a wall, and whistles.

I don't know... what? –

A herring

What do you mean, Green? –

You paint it green!

Why hanging on a wall? –

You hang it on a wall!

But no herring that I know of whistles! —

That's to make the answer harder to guess.

Classic Yiddish joke submitted by Irving Massey

A priest, a rabbit, and a minister walk into a bar. The rabbit says,
"Turns out I might be a typo."

Aha moment submitted by Deborah Greitzer.

From the ghetto to the shtetl!

Mashup of the trailer for You Got Served with Fiddler on the Roof

Click HERE

Cartoon Corner

submitted by Joel Weiss

"The Internet startup had only enough cash for one more day. But, miraculously, the money lasted for eight days, until more venture capital could be raised."

*"And remember, if you need anything
I'm available 24/6."*

YENTA THEATRE PRESENTS WAITING FOR GODOT

Jewish James Bond

Agent Oy-Oy 7

Click HERE

The Covid pandemic and what it really memes...

QUARANTINED WITH HUBBIE FOR TWO WEEKS - GERTRUDE IS KNITTING SOMETHING SPECIAL FOR HIM! 🧶

these memes
plus the Van Gogh
submitted by Beverly Spruill

Even Our Food is Funny

Kids have a close encounter with Gefilte Fish

Click HERE

Joketoon

A minister, a priest and a rabbi were discussing how they “divined” what part of the collection money each retained for personal needs and what part was turned in to their respective institutions.

“I draw a line,” said the minister, “on the floor. All the money I toss in the air—what lands to the right of the line I keep, to the left of the line is the Lord’s.”

The priest nodded, saying “My system is essentially the same, only I use a circle. What lands inside is mine, outside His.”

The rabbi smiled and said, “I do the same thing. I toss all the money into the air and whatever God grabs, is His!”

Insurance Against Being Jewish

The British do Yiddish!

Click HERE

The Family Mashber (not a funny book!)

Book Review by Deborah Greitzer

The Family Mashber is not a funny book. It is written by Der Nister (1885--1950), the Hidden One, a pseudonym that Pinchas Kahanovitch used initially to escape conscription by the czarist army. Like a Dickens novel, it is teeming with characters with ironic names--The Kitten, Shmulikl the Fist, Yossele Plague, Sher-Ber Girl Maker, and Ten Groschen Pushke. But, like a Dickens novel, the odd names only accentuate the darkness that lurks behind them. This is not a funny book.

Der Nister was born in czarist Russia in Berdichev, once in Poland, in his time in Russia, now in the Ukraine. The first chapter of The Family Mashber gives a thorough description of that city, a city in which the majority of the population was Jewish. The fictional city is called N. This opening chapter and descriptions of the community...

READ MORE:

To download the full review,

click HERE

We hope you have enjoyed this special issue.

Please note that as we continue to move out of isolation, we will be phasing out the Corona Chronicle and reverting back to our regular monthly newsletter

To submit content for the next edition of the CBACC, email us: info@congregationbethabraham.net

We would love to hear from you!

Click HERE for back issues of the Corona Chronicle

Click HERE to visit our Website with upcoming events and information about CBA